MODEL ANSWER

- a) This hadith of Prophet Mohammad (PBUH) deals with sincerity with our beliefs and to the members of community. Sincerity is stressed and valued much in Islamic faith; if one's beliefs and actions include sincerity and dedication they will be rewarded multifold but if beliefs and actions lack sincerity and dedication their worth declines. We are required of following the faith of Islam fully and with dedication and we need to be sincere in our actions towards the members of our community. So we learn from this hadith that we must be sincere in things we believe and in things we do. We need to believe in the main principles of Islam and be loyal to our community especially to the leader of our community. In connection to this the holy prophet said: "Whoso obeys my Commander, obeys me and whoso disobeys my Commander disobeys me." (Muslim). Thus, we believe that being loyal towards Islamic beliefs and people of community is true religion.
- b) We should be sincere in all we believe and all we do. We shouldn't act to be pretentious rather our actions should involve utmost dedication and devotion to please Allah alone. We should also strictly follow the commandments of Allah and be willing to sacrifice anything for His cause to earn His pleasure. Hazrat Ibrahim (A.S)'s devotion is inspirational for us when he even attempted to slaughter his son Hazrat Ismail (A.S) in order to follow Allah's commandment and to earn His pleasure. We should also be devoted towards our beloved Prophet Mohammad (PBUH). For this we should impersonate him by following his Sunnah in all the aspects of our life and also act according to his teachings in every ground. Moreover, in our affairs towards our community our actions should also reflect our sincerity towards them. For this, we need to consider them as our brothers and equal to us. We should always be there for them in adversity and prosperity both. Conclusively, our righteous leaders also deserve our loyalty in form of obedience and trusting them.

HADITH # 1

1. 'الدِّينُ النَّصِيحَةُ' قُلْنَا: لِمَنْ؟ قَالَ: 'لِلَّهِ وَلِكِتَابِهِ، وَلِرَسُولِهِ، وَلِأَئِمَّةِ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَعَامَّتِهِمْ.'

'Religion is sincerity.' We said: 'To whom?' The Prophet said: 'To Allah, his Book, his Messenger, the leaders of the Muslims and to their common people.'

- a) Introduction: This deals with sincerity towards Articles of faith and people of community.

Belief Strengthened:

- Islam highlights the significance of sincerity and devotion in beliefs and actions. It teaches that deeds performed with sincerity will be rewarded fully where as the actions that lack honest beliefs and efforts will be nullified.

- Therefore, we learn from this hadith that we need to be sincere in things we believe & things we do.
- We need to believe firmly in the main principles of Islam and be fully loyal to our community.
- Moreover, we are required to be obedient and loyal to the leader of our community. In relation to this the Prophet (PBUH) said: "Whoso obeys my Commander, obeys me and whoso disobeys my Commander disobeys me." (Muslim)
- Thus, we believe that being loyal towards Islamic beliefs and people of community is religion.

Actions Required:

- We should be sincere in all we believe and all we do.
- We should strictly follow the laws of Allah and should have the desire to do anything to please Him.
- Example: Hazrat Ibrahim (A.S) who got ready to slaughter his own son to fulfill the orders of Allah.
- We should also prove our loyalty to Mohammad (PBUH) by impersonating his life style and accepting him as a model to live; by words and actions both. We need not only to quote his words but also to implement them practically in our lives.
- We should also be sincere with the people of community. We should count them as equal to us and as our brothers. We should always be there for them, in prosperity and adversity both, and should have feelings of reverence and sympathy for them.
- We should also be obedient towards our leaders if they are righteous. If they err, we should enlighten them where they go wrong and help them to rectify their errors.

HADITH # 2

2. لَا يُؤْمِنُ أَحَدُكُمْ حَتَّى يُحِبَّ لِأَخِيهِ مَا يُحِبُّ لِنَفْسِهِ.

None of you believes until he wants for his brother what he wants for himself.

Introduction: This hadith deals with one of the necessary attributes of a believer.

Belief Strengthened:

- Islam is the religion of peace and unity. It stresses a lot on social relationships and their integrity.
- For the establishment of unified and strong society, Islam ties all Muslims as brothers of each other.
- This relationship of brotherhood is full with sincere feelings, equality, love and care for each other.
- We learn from this hadith that we are required of treating our brothers with equality. For this we have to have same likes and dislikes for our brothers as we have for ourselves.
- Thus, our true belief is to include concern of others' welfare. Prophet (PBUH) encouraged us to be generous and sympathetic towards our brothers. He (PBUH) said: "You cannot enter paradise unless you are a believer and you cannot be a believer unless there is reciprocal love among you."
- We also believe that our conduct for others is a part of faith. Therefore, our faith is imperfect without love, care and our equal treatment towards our brothers.

Actions Required:

- We should have same likes and dislikes for our brothers as we have for ourselves.
- We should treat and communicate to them in a way as we expect to be treated and communicated.
- We should consider them as equal to us and avoid any sort of social, linguistic, racial, geographical and color differences.
- We should create cordial relationship. For this, we should revere their values and should be generous and kind to them.
- We should be there for our brothers in prosperity and adversity both. At time of need, we should help them and be ready to sacrifice anything to assist them.
- Example: Example of assistance of Ansars for Muhajirin.
- We should not choose or suggest an action for our brothers that we dislike for ourselves.

HADITH # 3

3. مَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ فَلْيَقُلْ خَيْرًا أَوْ لِيَصْمُتْ، وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ فَلْيُكْرِمْ جَارَهُ، وَمَنْ كَانَ يُؤْمِنُ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ فَلْيُكْرِمْ ضَيْفَهُ.

Let him who believes in Allah and the Last Day either speak good or keep silent, and let him who believes in Allah and the Last Day be generous to his neighbour, and let him who believes in Allah and the Last Day be generous to his guest.

Introduction: This hadith signifies some important attributes of believers of Tawhid and the Judgment day.

Belief Strengthened:

- The believers of the monotheistic faith are those who believe in the sole existence of Allah without associating anyone in His existence and powers.
- One of His powers is His authority of sole Judgment on the Final day. This connects believers with their firm belief of their accountability before Allah in the last day.
- So, we learn from this Hadith that every individual is answerable before Allah on the Day of Judgment of his conduct especially towards his fellow beings; neighbors and guests.
- We also learn to be humble and sensible in using our tongue and to be kind and generous in our dealings towards others. The Prophet (PBUH) said about kind treatment: "Allah is not kind with the one who is not kind to man." (Agreed)
- Kindness to man (others) can be shown by humble speech and polite behavior.
- Thus, our belief is to be kind in speech and to be generous in neighboring affairs and hosting guests.

b)

Actions Required:

- We should be kind and generous in our speech & our conduct towards others.
- We should avoid over speaking and shouldn't exaggerate in conversations.
- We should think much before saying anything so that every time we speak wise that is good for all.
- We should not hurt others by using abusive or harsh language, disrespectful tone etc.
- When we are visited by someone, we should provide hospitality to our guests.
- Example: The companion of Holy Prophet (PBUH) entertained his guest generously by offering their dinner to the guest which was only enough for one individual. Hence he put off the light of lantern and made sounds from his mouth as if he was having food with the guest so that the guest may not feel awkward.
- We should take care of our neighbors by let them feeling secure in our presence. We should be generous enough to help them in their small needs.

HADITH # 4

4. أَنْ رَجُلًا سَأَلَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) فَقَالَ: أَرَأَيْتَ إِذَا صَلَّيْتُ الْمَكْتُوبَاتِ، وَصُمْتُ رَمَضَانَ، وَأَحْلَلْتُ الْحَلَالَ، وَحَرَمْتُ الْحَرَامَ، وَلَمْ أَزِدْ عَلَى ذَلِكَ شَيْئًا، أَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ.

A man asked the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and give him peace): Do you think that if I perform the obligatory prayers, fast in Ramadan, treat as lawful that which is lawful and treat as forbidden that which is forbidden, and do nothing further, I shall enter paradise? He said: Yes.

Introduction: This hadith mentions the sufficient deeds to enter paradise.

Belief Strengthened:

- After believing in Articles of faith, believers are given some obligatory duties. These are to worship Allah five times a day and observe fasting by abstaining in the month of Ramadan.

- Not only this, it is also mandatory on believers to have enough education about their religion so that they can differentiate between the right and wrong and act accordingly.
- We learn from this hadith that performing obligations and differentiating permissible and forbidden are adequate to be rewarded with paradise.
- One of the regular obligations is prayer. It is said that on the final day we will be first inquired about our prayer. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "He who gives up prayer has indeed disbelieved." (Tirmizi)
- Another obligation indicated in hadith is obligatory fast of Ramadhan. Other than these, obligations of almsgiving and pilgrimage are also to be fulfilled by the rich Muslims.
- Thus, we are required to offer obligations, consider lawful as permissible and unlawful as forbidden.

Actions Required:

- We should be punctual in performing our duties and rigid in considering permissible and forbidden.
- We should be regular and punctual in performing obligatory worshipping ritual prayer and should observe fasting in the entire month of Ramadhan without missing any. If we possess amount exceeding Nisab, we should also pay Zakat tax every year on time.
- We should continuously work to enhance our knowledge about religious laws. We should also educate our children/siblings about our Islamic beliefs and practices and their importance.
- Example: Muslim children in Pakistan along with their school curriculum also go to Madarsa (Islamic centers) to learn about their Islamic beliefs and practices.
- We should also be modest in our choices and differ between permissible and forbidden with consideration. We should strictly avoid immoral activities and practice only moral ones.
- We should have a firm belief that our regular performance of obligations and unbending conduct in applying laws of Allah are sufficient for us to be rewarded with paradise.
- Example: of the Holy Prophet (PBUH)'s conduct to apply laws of Allah in practical life.

HADITH #5

5. كُلُّ سُلَامَى مِنَ النَّاسِ عَلَيْهِ صَدَقَةٌ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ تَطْلُعُ فِيهِ الشَّمْسُ: تَعْمَلُ بَيْنَ اثْنَيْنِ صَدَقَةٌ؛ وَتُعِينُ الرَّجُلَ فِي دَابَّتِهِ فَتَحْمِلُهُ عَلَيْهَا أَوْ تَرْقِعَ لَهُ عَلَيْهَا مَتَاعَهُ صَدَقَةٌ؛ وَالْكَلِمَةُ الطَّيِّبَةُ صَدَقَةٌ؛ وَيَكُلُّ خُطْوَةً تَمْشِيهَا إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ صَدَقَةٌ؛ وَتَمْيُطُ الْأَذَى عَنِ الطَّرِيقِ صَدَقَةٌ.

Every person's every joint must perform a charity every day the sun comes up: to act justly between two people is a charity; to help a man with his mount, lifting him onto it or holsting up his belongings onto it is a charity; every step you take to prayers is a charity; and removing a harmful thing from the road is a charity.

Introduction: This hadith highlights some types of charities other than financial charities.

Belief Strengthened:

- The offering of charity is a symbol of being thankful to Allah. Like for being financially strong, financial charities are given to show gratitude to Allah.
- Similarly, we are required of offering other form of charities too to be thankful of those blessings.
- So, we learn from this hadith that we need to offer charities from our body organs in form of good deeds to show gratitude to Allah for the might & health He bestows on us.
- Prophet (PBUH) at other places also taught that performing charity helps to earn pleasure of Allah. He (PBUH) said: "Charity certainly quenches the wrath of the Lord and puts away the evil death."
- Being kind and beneficial for others in any form is also charity as the Prophet (PBUH) said: "Every good act is charity." (Agreed)
- A good act could be anything like speaking gently, giving a helping hand, removing hindrance etc.

Actions Required:

- We should develop a regular habit of offering charity from our body organs in different ways.
- In case of passing judgment, we should be just in announcing verdicts. We should not be biased on the basis of color, gender, linguistics, religion etc.
- Example: Hazrat Imam Ibn-e-Sireen, successor of the companions, who despite being a leading Muslim scholar, received the verdict of imprisonment for 12 years from the just Qazi due to inability of returning the loan money of a Non-Muslim lady, who filed a case against Imam Ibn-e-Sireen.
- We should greet our brothers and meet everyone with humbleness, cheer and smile.
- We should help & support others in good causes voluntarily to earn God's pleasure.
- We should lead for prayer with devotion and never be reluctant to remove things from others ways.
- We should frequently use dustbins and strictly avoid throwing garbage, banana peel, cigarette etc on the road which might cause trouble to others.

HADITH # 6

6. مَنْ رَأَى مِنْكُمْ مُنْكَرًا فَلْيُغَيِّرْهُ بِيَدِهِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَسْتَطِعْ فَبِلِسَانِهِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَسْتَطِعْ فَبِقَلْبِهِ، وَذَلِكَ أَضْعَفُ الْإِيمَانِ.

Whosoever of you sees an evil action, let him change it with his hand, and if he is not able to do so then with his tongue, and if he is not able to do so then with his heart, and that is the weakest of faith.

Introduction: This hadith promotes actions for the establishment of just & peaceful society.

Belief Strengthened:

- Islam offers range of teachings to establish a society where everyone is treated equally and no one is oppressed.
- It encourages peace and commands to cease any kind of evil harming peace of individual or society.
- So, we learn from this saying of Mohammad (PBUH) that evil has to be stopped as per our capability, access and power.
- This hadith teaches us to resist evil physically, verbally or spiritually.
- The top priority is given to suppress evil by physical means as the Prophet (PBUH) said: "Help your brother when he does wrong or wrong is done to him." (Bukhari)
- If we do not have access or power to suppress evil immediately by physical means then we are required to protest against it verbally or by media resources.
- In case of powerlessness in doing this either, in order to secure our faith, we must consider the evil-doing and evildoer as wrong.
- This hadith also teaches us that the one who doesn't consider evil as wrong is deprived of faith.

Actions Required:

- We should always be in favor of the right and protest against the wrong to perish it.
- We should encourage family, friends, colleagues, acquaintance and people we know for doing every possible thing to resist evil-doings in society.
- Example: Like Scholars & Teachers who keep on preaching the right and restricting the wrong/evil.
- If we are trusted as an arbiter, we should assist the victim and also stop the one who is victimizing. We should justly solve the dispute and shouldn't be biased.
- For the protection of our faith, we should always protest against the evil physically, verbally or spiritually because if we don't then perhaps we might also become the part of evil.

HADITH # 7

7. قِيلَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ أَيُّ النَّاسِ أَفْضَلُ؟ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ):
'مُؤْمِنٌ يُجَاهِدُ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ بِنَفْسِهِ وَمَالِهِ.'

It was said: O Messenger of Allah, who is the most excellent of men? The Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and give him peace) said: 'The believer who strives hard in the way of Allah with his person and his property.'

a)

Introduction: This hadith deals with the virtues of Jihad in the way of Allah.

Belief Strengthened:

- Jihad, undoubtedly, is one of the religious duties laid on believers by Allah. It means to struggle for the cause of Allah with all energies to resist evil/enemy and to establish peace.
- It is mandatory to believe in Jihad as it is a basic principle of Islam and to struggle for Allah's cause.
- This struggle includes fighting against our evil desires and suppressing them for Allah. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "The greatest Jihad is to fight against the evil passion of oneself." (Tirmidhi)
- It also includes spending our valuables like time and money in the way of Allah and to fight against the physical enemies of Islam when needed.
- We learn from this hadith that to reach to the level of excellence, we need to suppress our evil desires, to contribute generously from our possessions and to fight physically with enemies of Islam, if needed.
- Thus, our belief is to sacrifice our will, property and life just for the cause of Allah. We learn that those who sacrifice these in the way of Allah earn the status of the most excellent people of Muslim Ummah.

Actions Required:

- We should be ready to sacrifice our desires, time, money and life, if needed.
- For the establishment of peace in our individual and communal life, we should first try to struggle against our evil desires and try to cease them in our heart.
- We should also work for the peace in society by preaching the good and resisting the evil verbally.
- We should spend our assets generously in the way of Allah.
- Example: Hazrat Abu Bakr (RZ) who spent all his assets at the time of Tabuk expedition OR Hazrat Uthman (RZ) who was consistent to spend his assets in the way of Allah.
- We shouldn't be hesitant to fight in the way of Allah for the safety of our religion, country, family, or possessions. Rather, we should gallantly fight to protect them with a firm belief of high reward.

HADITH # 8

The Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and give him peace) said: 'Whom do you count to be a martyr among you?' They said: O Messenger of Allah, whoever is killed in the way of Allah is a martyr. He said: 'In that case the martyrs of my community will be very few! He who is killed in the way of Allah is a martyr, he who dies a natural death in the way of Allah is a martyr, he who dies in the plague in the way of Allah is a martyr, he who dies of cholera in the way of Allah is a martyr.'

a)

Introduction: This hadith enlists few of those who are entitled as Martyr in Islam.

Belief Strengthened:

- This is the desire of every Muslim to earn martyrdom in the way of Allah and to be amongst those blessed people who wouldn't be questioned before entering heaven.

- We believe that Martyrs are those who will enter paradise without Judgment.
- The Prophet (PBUH) said: "Fire will not touch a foot which trod in the way of Allah." (Bukhari)
- Our common belief is that martyr is the one who is killed in the way of Allah.
- But, we learn from this hadith that not only the one who is killed by enemy in the way of Allah is martyr but also the one who dies with any contagious or incurable disease or receive natural death in the way of Allah earn the status and reward of martyrdom.
- This is because the entire life of a Muslim is spent in any form of Jihad which may be spiritual, mental or physical Jihad so that whenever he dies, he dies in the way of Allah to earn martyrdom.

Actions Required:

- We should engage ourselves in Jihad of any kind to die in Allah's way as a martyr.
- We should pray to be among the martyrs of this community because without the will of Allah our wish can never come true.
- We shouldn't make excuses of suffering or anything to go for physical fighting. We shouldn't be scared of giving away our life for the cause of Allah.
- We should strictly avoid entering or leaving territories where widespread diseases are sent by Allah. Rather than embracing the death or escaping from it, we should stay on the respective land believing in Divine's Decree strongly.
- Example: Hazrat Abu Ubaidah bin Jarrah (RZ) refused the caliph, Hazrat Umar (RZ), to leave Syria when the city was afflicted by plague.
- If one gets affected with any incurable disease, one should keep patience and should never lose hope. If Allah wills, He will bestow health and if He doesn't He will bestow more fruitfully in form of the reward of martyrdom in the life hereafter.

HADITH # 9

9. مَا أَكَلَ أَحَدٌ طَعَامًا قَطُّ خَيْرًا مِّنْ أَنْ يَأْكُلَ مِنْ عَمَلٍ يَدِهِ.

No one eats better food than that which he eats out of the work of his hand.

Introduction: This hadith teaches the importance of hard & honest work to earn livelihood.

Belief Strengthened:

- The teachings of religion Islam are not limited to religious practices. Islam also binds believers with their social and financial responsibilities.
- One of such responsibilities is to earn for ourselves and for our family members.
- So, earning livelihood honestly is the first practical principle to be acted upon after accepting faith and offering obligatory duties.
- We learn from this hadith that we need to earn for living by working and not to be dependent on others for our living.
- The sources of earnings should also be checked. Our belief is to earn livelihood through lawful means i.e. trade, service, wages, labor etc where as we need to abhor earning livelihood from unlawful means like gambling, stealing, interest based dealings etc.
- Allah blesses those who earn their living through lawful means. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "The sins of a person who returns home exhausted in search of lawful earning are forgiven by Allah." (Agreed)
- It means earning livelihood by working hard through lawful means is also the act of Iba'dah (worship). Therefore, we are required to earn for our living honestly.

Actions Required:

- We should work for our source of revenue and live an independent life.
- It is better to work for living than being dependant on others.
- Example: Companion's query to Holy Prophet (SAW) about a better person in two: the first one was often-worshipping but dependent on others financially; the second was the one who fulfilled his obligations with his social and financial responsibilities. The Prophet (PBUH) preferred the second.
- We should avoid sitting idle to wait for the right kind of job. We shouldn't be ashamed of earning through lawful means if it is by doing labor or any inferior status job.
- We should avoid short cuts and evil ways like stealing, bribery, snatching etc to earn in abundance in short time.
- We should strictly avoid greediness and materialism because they encourage earning through unlawful sources to earn more and more and to achieve what we desire in quick time.

HADITH # 10

10. السَّاعِي عَلَى الْأَرْمَلَةِ وَالْمِسْكِينِ كَالْمُجَاهِدِ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ، أَوْ الْقَائِمِ اللَّيْلَ الصَّائِمَ النَّهَارَ.

One who manages the affairs of the widow and the poor man is like the one who exerts himself in the way of Allah, or the one who stands for prayer in the night or fasts in the day.

Introduction: This hadith highlights the virtues of helping poor and needy.

Belief Strengthened:

- Islam teaches to offer worshipping rituals to please Allah like praising Him, offering voluntary prayers, observing voluntary fasts, preaching Islam and fighting in His way for Islam.
- But, worshipping before Allah is not the only way of pleasing Him. By helping His people especially the destitute, we can also please Him and earn bounties.
- This hadith promotes the idea of attaining blessings by helping those who are in any need.
- So, we learn from this Hadith that helping deprived and needy people is as worthy as walking in the way of Allah or worshipping Him.
- Islam teaches on several other occasions that the expression of faith in Allah is through purity in feelings and good treatment to others. The Quran states: "... Treat with kindness your parents & kindred & orphans & those in need." (2:83)
- We also believe that if we administer dealings of others voluntarily, Allah will administer ours.

Actions Required:

- We should generously help and support those who lack in worldly means.
- We should provide our support to the destitute socially, morally and economically. If they lack in worldly means, we shouldn't count them as inferior to us and shouldn't mistreat them. In our social connection to them we should respect their elders and should be affectionate to their kids. Other than this, we should also try to provide them shelter, food and guidance as per our capacity.
- The common man is also the responsibility of the leader of the estate. Therefore, Muslim leaders should also take care of the poor of the community.
- Example: Hazrat Umar (RZ), the second Caliph of Islam, when he found some children weeping due to hunger, he himself brought and cooked food for them and asked the widow (children's mother) to feed her children.

OR Example: Hazrat Umar (RZ) used to patrol on the streets during nights to check if anyone among common man under his rule needed aid.

- In a Muslim society special arrangements should also be made to aid the destitute with the collection of taxes like Zakat and other forms of charity.
- We should treat them mercifully to be treated the same by Allah.
- As Allah sees man's intention behind the act so we shouldn't be pretentious while helping them.

HADITH # 11

11. أَنَا وَكَافِلُ الْيَتِيمِ فِي الْجَنَّةِ هَكَذَا، وَقَالَ بِأَصْبَعَيْهِ السَّبَّابَةِ وَالْوُسْطَى.

'I and the man who brings up an orphan will be in paradise like this.' And he pointed with his two fingers, the index finger and the middle finger.

a) Introduction: This hadith highlights the virtues of bringing up the orphans.

Belief Strengthened:

- Orphans generally are those who have lost their father but in broader meanings these are the people who lack in supervision, care, guidance and support due to losing parents or being away from them.
- As orphans are mostly dependant on others, therefore Islam lays emphasis on the rights of orphans. It motivates for kind & just treatment with them by setting high reward and exalted status for this.
- So, we learn from this hadith that treating orphans kindly & bringing them up fairly would benefit us with the nearness of Holy Prophet (PBUH) in paradise.
- Virtues and alerts regarding the houses where orphans are brought up are mentioned in another hadith of Prophet (PBUH), he (PBUH) said "The best Muslim house is that in which an orphan is well treated and the worst Muslim house is that in which an orphan is ill treated." (Ibne Majah)
- We also believe that nearness to Prophet (PBUH) in Paradise sums up inconceivable bounties and success on the Day of Judgment.

Actions Required:

- We should provide assistance to the orphans and destitute, as per our capacity.
- The best way to aid them is to offer them shelter and end up their homelessness. If possible, we should bring them up and should offer them all their necessities until they become independent.
- We should not discriminate them with our own children. They shall be provided all their materialistic, sentimental and academic requirements as same as we provide to our own child.
- We should also provide them the best religious and worldly educations to help them to become virtuous Muslim and citizen.
- Not only this, if needed, we should sacrifice for their well grooming and establishment.
Example: Hazrat Jabir (RZ), after his father's death, married a mature lady instead of marrying a young girl so that she could look after the seven or nine orphan girls his father left behind.
- If his (orphan's) parents left property for him, we should take care of it honestly till their youth.
- We shouldn't spend their possessions and suppress their rights due to his powerlessness.
- We should also not become greedy for their wealth and take them under our care for the cause of looting/misusing their wealth. Rather, we should focus more on the reward we will receive on the final day on bringing them up fairly.
- We should try fulfilling all their lawful wishes like we try to fulfill the wishes of our own children.

HADITH # 12

12. بَعَثَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ) أَبَا مُوسَى وَمُعَاذَ بْنَ جَبَلٍ إِلَى الْيَمَنِ، وَبَعَثَ كُلَّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمَا عَلَى مِخْلَافٍ. ثُمَّ قَالَ: يُسِّرَا وَلَا تُعَسِّرَا وَبَشِّرَا وَلَا تُنْفِرَا.

The Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and give him peace) sent Abu Musa and Mu'adh Ibn Jabal to Yaman, and he sent each of them to govern a part. Then he said: 'Be gentle and do not be hard, and cause rejoicing and do not alienate.'

a) Introduction: This hadith suggests the most important principle of preaching Islam.

Belief Strengthened:

- The common man comes under the authority of ruler so the worldly peace of common man pretty much depends on the policies of ruler. Therefore, in this hadith high authorities are given responsibilities of kind treatment with common man.
- Man's heart heals with ease and kind heartedness which produces joy and happiness in his-life.
- We learn from this hadith that authorities need to be easygoing and kind in their policies. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "Make things easy and do not make them hard & cheer up people and do not repel them."
- On the other hand insensitive treatment & sophisticated policies can snatch one's peace & happiness.
- As the ruler of Muslim state or province is also the representative of Islam and whatever he does displays the ideologies of Islam therefore he is required to provide kind policies and treatment which enhances common man's love for religion.
- This treatment will make common man to follow Islam. Hence, Islam would get promoted and preached by leaders in this unique manner.

Actions Required:

- Muslims leaders should be kind & gentle while ruling & preaching.
- The leaders should provide maximum assistance to their followers by their policies and strategies which could make the followers' life easy, peaceful and well established.
- In case of ruling Non Muslim citizens, they should also equally consider them as the part of state and provide them same privileges and responsibilities.
- Example: Prophet (PBUH) when he became the head of Madinah, he treated the Jews of Madinah equally and considered them as the part of state and offered them equal rights and responsibilities.
- The leader should be pious & chaste and preach Islam by his actions so that he could be a model for others to follow. This will eventually attract others towards Islam.
- They should never try to thrust their opinion on others because it never touches hearts nor convinces one to implement the imposed things.

HADITH # 13

13. إِنَّمَا مَثَلُ صَاحِبِ الْقُرْآنِ كَمَثَلِ صَاحِبِ الْإِبِلِ الْمُعَقَّلَةِ: إِنْ عَاهَدَ عَلَيْهَا أَمْسَكَهَا، وَإِنْ أَطْلَقَهَا ذَهَبَتْ.

He who studies the Qur'an is like the owner of tethered camels. If he attends to them he will keep hold of them, but if he lets them loose they will go away.

a)

Introduction: This hadith suggests a way to Huffaz (memorizers) to fulfill their responsibility of keeping Quran fresh in their memory and preserved in their hearts.

Belief Strengthened:

- The holy Quran is the book of complete guidance for mankind. Not only this, the Holy Qur'an is also miraculous in its own way which strengthens one's faith on it.
- One of such miracles is that Quran is the only book in the world which can be committed into memory only by those who believe in it.
- We believe that learning parts of Quran is an honor and virtuous for every believer.
- The virtues of learning Quran by heart are mentioned in Ahadith of Holy Prophet (PBUH). Once he (PBUH) said: "The noblest of my community are those who carry the Quran (in their memories)."
- We learn from this hadith that as it is virtuous to learn Quran, remembering it is also absolutely necessary. Therefore, for this we are required of revising it regularly to keep it preserved in our heart.
- We also learn that if we do not keep the learned parts of Quran by revising them regularly, they will gradually slip out of our mind just like the animal that runs away if it is not kept / tied.

Actions Required:

- We should make a habit of regular recitation of Quran for revision.
- Huffaz (memorizers) of our community should listen to it during Ramadan in Taraweeh & also recite their lessons to someone throughout the year in order to keep it strongly preserved in their memory.
- The responsibility is not only for Huffaz (memorizers), anyone who has memorized any part of Quran; it is his/her responsibility to keep it safe in his/her memory.
- Therefore, anyone who has committed even a single chapter of Quran into his/her memory should revise it in daily prayers, after prayers, at the beginning or the end of the day etc.
- The continuous listening makes things easy to remember. For this we can use our cell phones or ipods where we can save the memorized chapters of Quran and revise them by listening to them.
- If we don't revise Quran, it apparently slips out of our memory.
- Example: The Holy Prophet (PBUH) himself reviewed Quran every year with Hazrat Jibrail to keep it fresh in his memory and preserved in his heart.
- If the memorized parts have been forgotten then only re-learning and revision can bring it back.
- Example: I saw my Hafiz friend, Shahzad, remorsefully crying twice with holding Quran to his chest because he had forgotten Quran. After six months, with a cheer on his face, he told me that he regained entire Quran into his memory through regular revision which he had lost.
- The more we revise Quran, the stronger it is kept into our memory so we should never stop revising whatever part we have learnt from the miraculous book, the Holy Quran.

HADITH # 14

14. رَحِمَ اللَّهُ رَجُلًا إِذَا بَاعَ، وَإِذَا اشْتَرَى، وَإِذَا اقْتَضَى.

May God show mercy to a man who is kindly when he sells, when he buys, and when he demands his money back.

a)

Introduction: This hadith teaches us the ethics of business transactions.

Belief Strengthened:

- To keep better social and financial relations and to have peaceful and strong financial society, Islam has set morals of trade and business.
- Islam teaches us to conduct business not only with honesty and justice but also with kindness.
- So, we learn from this hadith to do the business dealings kindly in order to receive Allah's mercy.
- The hadith stresses on three major areas of trading where we need to be humble, supportive and considerate. These are selling, buying and loan dealings.

Kindness in selling includes not storing commodities for earning higher prices and not hiding defects of commodities. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "Whoever sells anything with defect in it which he doesn't make known, will remain hated of God." (Ibne Majah)

- Kindness in buying means not to buy items until they reach to the market and to avoid bargaining against our brother's bargain.
- Kindness in demanding the money back is to be considerate and patient when the debtor is in straitened circumstances.

Conditions Required:

- We should do business dealings with kindness and humbleness to earn pleasure and mercy of Allah.
- We are required to be gentle and thoughtful in business connections.
- Our businesses, when met with success, shouldn't be run on monopoly basis.
- If we trade, we should exchange or accept the return of the sold items if buyer isn't satisfied with it or wants to return it in anyway. For this we must avoid putting the slogan in our shops which says sold items cannot be returned or exchanged.
- Example: A companion of Holy Prophet (PBUH) started a business just to take back the sold items when he heard the Prophet (PBUH)'s saying of being rewarded with paradise on this act.
- We should not swear for selling commodities to convince the buyer.
- Example: Prophet (PBUH) refused to swear of Lat and Uzza at Syria to sell business items.
- We must not hide defects of products while selling to earn unjust profit.
- While buying or shopping we should wait for our turn and act like true gentleman. We shouldn't irritate the sales man by raising our voice or pressurizing him to deal us before others.
- We should never lend or borrow money or other items on interest.
- We should also be considerate if the debtor is unable to return the loan on time due to straitened circumstances.

HADITH # 15

15. لَا يَرْحَمُ اللَّهُ مَنْ لَا يَرْحَمُ النَّاسَ.

God will not show mercy to him who does not show mercy to others.

i) Introduction: This hadith deals with the exclusive attribute of Allah i.e. His Mercy.

Belief Strengthened:

- One of the most special and prior attribute of Allah is His mercy and compassion. The teachings we have received from Quran and Hadith encourage believers to create the qualities of compassion and mercy in them.
- Merciful means to be kind, humble and forgiving to His creatures and not to harm them, being affectionate to younger ones and honor the elder ones. It also means to be virtuous and beneficial for all the creatures of Allah; mankind, animal, plants etc.
- Thus, we learn from this Hadith that being forgiving, merciful and compassionate to others reward us with the Mercy of Allah in our life here and in the life hereafter.
- To show our compassion in attitude, it is necessary to mingle with people because without that we cannot have a chance of encountering difficulties and responding to them mercifully.
- So mingling in people and then being compassionate to them is better than being reserved and impatient. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "The Muslim who mixes with the people & bears with them patiently is better than he who doesn't mix with them nor bears with them patiently." (Ibne Majah)
- Compassionate is one who does good to the people and even when he isn't treated well still maintains the ties of relationship.

b) Actions Required:

- We should be compassionate and merciful to the creatures of Allah to earn Allah's mercy.
- We should be forgiving towards others. If any of our friend, colleague, acquaintance or stranger harm us then rather than taking revenge immediately or being aggressive we should try to be patient. If they realize their mistake and apologize we should accept their apology and shouldn't insult them.
- While forgiving, we should have an intention of receiving reward of our mercy to others in form of mercy of Allah. We shouldn't expect any re-compensation from men in turn of our forgiveness.
- We should also be kind towards other creatures of Allah. It also causes God's Wrath or Mercy.
- Example: Two women who are rewarded with Heaven & Hell due to their attitude towards God's creatures. The Prophet (PBUH) informed the consequences of both; the one who gave water to the thirsty dog would go to the Heaven & the other who was harsh to the cat would go to Hell Fire.
- Learning from this example, we should never treat the animals cruelly.
- Plants and trees shouldn't be cut unnecessarily as they are beneficial for healthy environment.

HADITH # 16

المُؤْمِنُونَ كَرَجُلٍ وَاحِدٍ، إِنْ أَشْتَكَى عَيْنُهُ اشْتَكَى كُلُّهُ، وَإِنْ أَشْتَكَى رَأْسُهُ اشْتَكَى كُلُّهُ. 16.

The believers are like a single man; If his eye is affected he is affected, and If his head is affected he is all affected.

a) Introduction: This hadith promotes brotherhood and makes the entire Muslim community a single body.

Belief Strengthened:

- The doctrines of Islam about socialization and brotherhood are exclusive.
- As we are bonded together as brothers by a common faith, this brings a strong sense of unity in us (the entire Muslim Ummah). This bond also perishes the thoughts of racial, tribal, social, geographical and linguistic differences amongst us.
- This motivates us to be concerned about each other and held us together in all times & conditions.
- So, we learn from this hadith that all we, the entire Muslim Ummah, are like one body and any influence on one part of community affects the entire Muslim Ummah.
- The Prophet (PBUH) said: "One believer to another is like the (bricks of) building, each one is holding and supporting the other." (Agreed)
- Thus, the affliction and pain of an individual or group amongst us is felt by everyone and cause restlessness in entire Muslim Ummah.

b) Actions Required:

- We should consider our brothers as connected to us as our body organs.
- We should be dependent on each other rather than dominating each other. As our connection is very strong and close, we should always try to assist each other.
- At times of our brother's need we should offer support and assistance. Similarly, if we need support, we should not only welcome our brothers' support but also be grateful for it.
- If we see our brother in any trouble, we should immediately respond together for its solution.
- Example: When the rumor of Hazrat Uthman (RZ)'s martyrdom spread before treaty of Hudaibya, all Muslims pledged to fight for Hazrat Uthman (RZ)'s justice together.
- We should never be so selfish and self concerned that in affliction of our brothers instead of providing help and assistance we remain busy for fulfillment of our necessities.
- We should strongly maintain the unity amongst us which is our true strength. As long as we remain united we prevail. Even today, if we strongly create the bond of unity, we will soon become as successful community as we were during the time of the Rightly Guided Caliphs.

HADITH # 17

17. الْحَيَاءُ لَا يَأْتِي إِلَّا بِخَيْرٍ.

Modesty produces nothing but good.

a) Introduction: This hadith highlights the virtues of modesty.

Belief Strengthened:

- The literal meaning of modesty is a state of chastity, simplicity & decency hence a modest person tries to be decent, simple & chaste.
- The word 'Good' in this tradition refers to all such qualities which make us a virtuous Muslim.
- The adoption of modesty in our character establishes the attribute of humility in us. This further drives away pride from us and brings strength and perfection in our faith.
- Moreover, by modesty not only we attain strong faith but it also prevents us from vice/evil practices.
- So, we learn from this hadith that modesty brings all the good qualities and morals in our character & conduct. This is why the Mohammad (PBUH) declared modesty as a cardinal feature of Islam. He (PBUH) said: "Every religion has a distinctive quality and distinctive quality of Islam is Modesty."
- Thus, we believe it is modesty that makes us a virtuous Muslim and produces the qualities of strong faith in us.

Actions Required:

- We should be modest in our religious beliefs and in our conduct.
- We should be modest towards Allah by believing in Him alone as the only God and by praising and worshipping Him alone without setting up partners with Him.
- We should be modest towards Prophet (PBUH) by impersonating his conduct in everyday life.
- We should also be modest with our religion and its laws by learning, practicing and spreading them.
- As modesty comes with simplicity so we should be simple and decent in our choices for colors, dresses and lifestyle etc.
- A modest person is also humble towards other so we should be humble in our speech and kind in our conduct towards others.
- We should offer due regard and respect to others especially to a modest person. While dealing with a modest person we should value his modesty and be formal and respectful to him.
- Example: Hazrat Uthman was treated formally and was offered due regard by Prophet (PBUH).
- Modesty also means shyness. We should create such shyness in ourselves that before even thinking of doing any evil act we feel ashamed of facing Allah with that evil.

HADITH # 18

18. لَا يَدْخُلُ النَّارَ أَحَدٌ فِي قَلْبِهِ مِثْقَالُ حَبَّةٍ مِنْ خُرْدٍ مِنْ إِيْمَانٍ، وَلَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ أَحَدٌ فِي قَلْبِهِ مِثْقَالُ حَبَّةٍ مِنْ خُرْدٍ مِنْ كِبَرٍ.

a)

Introduction: This hadith mentions the consequences of least amount of faith and pride.

Belief Strengthened:

- The least amount of faith comprises of believing Allah as the only God, Mohammad (PBUH) as the last Messenger of Allah and Islam as the only code of life.
- The least amount of pride means giving more importance to own self than Allah and His teachings. Adopting pride also means competing with Allah as pride is His exclusive attribute.

- It is hated by Allah the most if someone tries to adopt His attribute of pride. He said: "Pride is my cloak and greatness is my robe and he who competes with Me in respect of either of them I shall cast him into the Hell-fire." (Hadith-e-Qudsi)
- Faith and pride both are opposites of each other so at a time only one can be in our heart.
- Faith brings us closer to Allah and His blessings so we learn from this hadith that if we die by keeping least amount of faith in our heart, no matter what, we would finally dwell in the heaven.
- Pride causes displeasure of Allah so we also learn from this hadith that if one dies by keeping least amount of pride in ones heart, no matter what, one would ever dwell in the hell fire.

Actions Required:

- We should secure our faith from pride and boastfulness.
- We should never think ourselves greater or similar to the personality of Allah or to any of His attributes. We should admit and declare His supremacy in everything and our dependency on Him.
- We should consider ourselves equal to the community members and avoid thinking ourselves superior to others due to worldly possessions, status and ranks.
- We should improve our faith by adding humility in our nature. Humility can be attained only when we give top priority to our faith than any other valuable.
- Example: Hazrat Ali (RZ) exhibited humility when in a battle a man disgraced Holy Prophet (PBUH) Hazrat Ali (RZ) threw him down on the floor & seized him. The man spat on Hazrat Ali (RZ) whereupon Hazrat Ali (RZ) immediately left him. On inquiry, Hazrat Ali (RZ) said at first he attacked for Allah but if then he responded it would have been for his personal revenge not for Allah.
- As pride and faith cannot co-exist so we should stay away from all the actions and manners which can create pride in our heart. For this, we should never bear flattering as flattery inculcates pride in one's heart. We shouldn't wish to be treated like a ruler. Example: The Prophet (PBUH) himself disliked to be treated like a ruler and strictly forbade his companions to welcome him by standing.
- While communicating we should give full concentration to others and hear them attentively. We shouldn't speak to the people with our faces turned away as it exhibits pride.

HADITH # 19

الدُّنْيَا سِجْنُ الْمُؤْمِنِ وَجَنَّةُ الْكَافِرِ. 19.

a) The world is the believer's prison and the unbeliever's paradise.

Introduction: This hadith reveals the truth of worldly life.

Belief Strengthened:

- Prison is a place where one is restricted and can't live freely. We learn from this that the worldly life of believer is similar to this. Neither can he freely do whatever he desires nor can he indulge in this life fully and enjoy the luxuries here.
- We are tested in the worldly life by Allah so we are required to live a disciplined and restricted life like the prisoner does. A prisoner has to be disciplined so that he could get the chance of living luxurious, free and independent life. Similarly, we, the believers, have to be disciplined in this worldly life so that we will get the reward of luxurious, free and independent life of paradise.
- Therefore, we give priority to be disciplined and restricted by carrying out Allah's command in this world because this life is just like a halt for us in our way towards heaven. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "Live in this world as if you were a stranger or a wayfarer." (Bukhari)
- Paradise is a place where one lives independently and does whatever he desires. So, we learn from this hadith that worldly life of unbeliever is like Paradise for him because here he freely does whatever he wants and become the slave of his desires. He gets so deeply involved in wanting this world that he starts considering it the ultimate end of his existence.

Actions Required:

- We should always focus on our final destination i.e. the life hereafter.
- We should spend this life (a minute life) by carrying out Allah's commands for the attainment of independency and luxuries in life hereafter rather than severe torments and punishments.
- As the world looks so attractive and calls upon us every day, we shouldn't allow love of this world to enter into our hearts. Rather, we should concentrate more on the life we will have after this.
- We shouldn't threaten the success of our eternal life for the temporary materials of this world. We should prefer to spend this temporary life simply to attain never ending luxury and pleasure.
- Example: The Messengers of Allah turned down the offers of living like a ruler or King in this world and preferred to live simpler life than any other.
- We should patiently persevere against all the difficulties in this temporary life by considering the difficulties as our trial to attain success.

HADITH # 20

20. إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَنْظُرُ إِلَى صُورِكُمْ وَلَا أَمْوَالِكُمْ، وَلَكِنْ يَنْظُرُ إِلَى قُلُوبِكُمْ وَأَعْمَالِكُمْ.

God does not regard your appearances and your possessions, but he regards your hearts and your actions.

a)

Introduction: This hadith highlights the criteria of Judgment by Allah.

Belief Strengthened:

- The worldly goods and external looks we possess are all the blessings Allah has bestowed upon us. As they are His providing therefore Allah does not value them in Judgment.
- Rather, He values our internal characteristics that we keep in our heart like our feelings & intentions.
- We learn from this hadith that the all knowing Allah who can see both the exterior and interior of man grants His favors on the basis of actions performed with the pure intentions in heart to please Him.
- A part of first hadith of Bukhari brilliantly explains it all. The Prophet (PBUH) said: "Actions are judged by intentions." (Bukhari)
- Here intentions are related with the words 'your hearts' in this tradition.
- We believe that if actions are good apparently but deprive of pure intentions, they will not be accepted in the court of Allah.

b)

Actions Required:

- We should keep pure intentions for anything we do.
- We should do all good deeds just for the cause of Allah. Whatever good we do, we should expect that Allah will assess that and if it is performed with pure feelings He will grant us His favors.
- We should never be more concerned about what people value like the outer look and wealth, rather we should be concerned about what Allah values and pleases from i.e. the pure feelings of sincerity and devotion behind our actions.
- Example: The example of a companion of Holy Prophet (PBUH) is inspirational to learn the worth of intentions. He (RZ) earned a few dates by watering the garden of a Jew. When he donated most of the dates for Islam, the Prophet (PBUH) spread these dates over all the valuables saying that this is the pinnacle of all the donations due to the amount of sincere feelings and pure intentions involved in that and the amount of sincerity is seen in actions not the amount of donation itself.
- We shouldn't do anything, worship or charity, just to be seen by people or to gain worldly benefits.
- We shouldn't be conscious of outward beauty as beauty lies within, in the purity of hearts only.
